Happy Easter

Dear Parents, Students and Friends of John XXIII College

This last week of our term has contained many memorable moments. Here is a composite capture of the week.

Sunday: Outstanding success for our Rowers in the South West Head of the River, placing second overall but winning the feature race of the day (The Mixed Eight). A wonderful weekend of rowing in Bunbury which was well supported by our families.

Sunday evening saw the Autumn Soiree switch venues because of the threat of rain. So from a picnic concert on the Chapel lawn to the Roncalli Hall, the entire production moved and squeezed in around the set of West Side Story. It was a magnificent event.

Monday: One of the highlights of my career in education happened for me on Monday with our “hook-up” to the International Space Station. To watch students speaking in live time to an astronaut as she orbited the planet was just an extraordinary moment. For someone of my generation almost Science Fiction; for the young students involved, an acceptance of the amazing technology and connectivity they have grown up with.

Tuesday: Twice a year the entire College population practices emergency scenarios. One evacuation and one invacuation. On Tuesday we had a ‘drill’ to test communication systems, procedures and student movement. These training exercises always provide suggestions for improvements and refinements. While it can be disruptive it is part of the College commitment to safely manage all foreseeable risks.

On Tuesday, Dr Samir Chaudhuri and Sister Pauline Prince IBVM, visited the College to speak to our students about Child in Need in India (CINI). The philosophy that governs CINI is that if you help the mother, you will help the child(ren). It has existed for 37 years in India helping women, children and communities move from poverty to health, education and new opportunities.

It was fantastic to see the whole hearted support that John XXIII College provided to CINI at the launch on Tuesday evening of CINI Australia. This group provides support through financial support and volunteers. It was particularly good to see the involvement of many young Alumni.

Wednesday: On Wednesday the College took possession of the 2010 Student Art Acquisition. It is a wonderful painting of Bell’s Rapids and it captures the colour and texture of the Australian Bush. It will grace the walls of John XXIII College for many years to come. I am lucky enough to have the painting in my office. Congratulations to our selected artist, Breanna Thomas.

Thursday: On Thursday morning the Secondary Students participated in a very powerful Holy Week. It was a wonderful collaboration between the Liturgy Coordinator (Mrs Lumley) and the Drama Coordinator, (Mr Tsakisiris) and Mrs Scott (Music). The Year 11 Drama students provided a very stylised interpretation of the Passion; the Liturgical and Girls Choir sang with exquisite tone and melody and our Faith and Justice Captains presided with great dignity and reverence. It was a moment of great solemnity which was well respected and appreciated by the students.

Friday: Friday saw the Primary School transform the amphitheatre into a sacred place to celebrate the Lord’s Passion. Great thought and reverence went into the planning and the young students carried out their roles with great dignity. The photos included on the Primary page give you a glimpse of the beauty of children at prayer.

Secondary students finished the term with a very spirited Cross Country Carnival. It was wonderful to see the House spirit and energy of our runners, walkers and wheelers!!

After such a busy week can I now encourage you all to slow down and enjoy the Holy Week. These are the most special days of the Liturgical calendar and can be celebrated in parish communities wherever you are in the world.

So whether you are staying home, going country, interstate or overseas, you can be part of the Lord’s Passion and Resurrection;

I wish you all a Holy Easter and a happy holiday.

Together let us seek justice

Yours sincerely

Mrs Anne Fry - Principal
Dear Parents

It is hard to believe it is the end of term one. The children and staff have had a very busy and productive eleven weeks. This morning the children from 2G and 6G lead our school community through a meaningful and reverent Easter Reflection. It was lovely to see so many parents and friends present at this prayer time. It was indeed a special paraliturgy and the whole school participated in a truly prayerful way.

As we commence the holidays I wish all families a well-earned rest from the school routine. As the new Head of Primary, I have appreciated all the wonderful support I have received from the school community. The staff and I look forward to the children returning to school on Tuesday 3rd May.

Best wishes for a happy and holy Easter.

Enjoy the holidays!

Kind regards

Ms Antoinette De Pinto - Head of Primary

Year 12 English, Literature and Religion and Life Stage 3
A number of parents have had queries about the extra support being offered to year 12 students for English and Literature. This will continue with English at 7.30am Wednesday in A2 and Literature on Thursday afternoons in the Library for the entire year up to the WACE examinations. The focus will be preparation for the unseen analysis section of the examination in both subjects, essay writing and critical analysis. Next semester we will also be offering support for Stage Three Religion and Life. The focus will be how to structure an essay in response to questions taken from the syllabus. Notices will be placed in the College Newsletter and the Daily Bulletin to inform students where and when. Students are welcome to attend any of these sessions as often as they like. Many are busy and cannot make the sessions every week. While obviously it is of greater benefit to come to every session offered, students should feel comfortable attending when they can, however infrequent that might be.

Philosophy Club
The College has also purchased some wonderful new support material for Philosophy. We will be using this next semester in our Philosophy Club. All students from Years 7 to 12 are very welcome to come to our meetings. They require no prior knowledge and will find they meet other students who have interesting views on life and what we can and cannot know. We will be starting to think about Ethics with our new resources. Ethics is a crucial area of Philosophy for young people. Working through some of the issues we face today with an understanding of Ethics can only be a positive experience for everyone. I look forward to meeting some new faces next term in our Wednesday meetings. The meeting venue and time are advertised in the College Daily Bulletin. If your child is interested but unsure where to go, or is just unsure, please email me and I will quietly find them and make them feel comfortable about coming along. The College has a long association with Philosophy and John XXIII College awards an annual Philosophy Essay Prize in a competition that is open to all secondary students in Western Australia. Last year a student from Carmel College won the prize, the year before a student from Australind Senior High. My dream is that one of our own JTC students will win the prize this year. Please encourage your children to join the Club. The experience will enrich their lives.

Gifted and Talented Day Study Day Years 10 & 11
In May PLC are hosting a conference for years 10 and 11 students. Julie Arliss and Jeffrey Hodges present challenging sessions introducing students to critical thinking and some confronting philosophical issues. Please contact me by email before 22 April if your student in year 10 or 11 would like to apply to attend. I need their name, tutor group and a sentence explaining why they should go. For details of the day see: www.academyconferences.com

Happy Easter to all

Mrs Annette Pedersen - MAGIS Coordinator
Chaplain’s Comments

We begin with Holy Week with Jesus’ entry into Jerusalem, his passion and death on the Cross and end with Our Lord’s Resurrection. All this makes no sense. St Paul was very clear on this, as he told the Corinthians: “If Christ has not been raised then our preaching is useless and your believing it, is useless…If our hope in Christ has been for this life only, we are the most unfortunate of all people”.

Friends the overriding sentiment, we are invited to experience, especially, in this coming week is one of joy, as with sadness over his passion, we should find a certain peace and tranquillity because the Lord has conquered death and his victory is ours too. A certain joy should in any way, always be natural disposition of any Christian because, as Pope John Paul II put it so well, “We are an Easter People, and Alleluia is our song,“

Our religious faith is sometimes portrayed as something negative, inducing gloom; some of our church services doubtless create such an impression. But this is quite wrong. We should pay more attention to St Paul’s advice: “Be happy at all times”, why? The answer comes from Psalm 126: “Then our mouths filled with laughter, and our lips with song. Even the pagans' started talking about the marvels Yahweh had done for us! What marvels indeed he did for us, and how overjoyed we were!

Easter only means something for the world if we live it out each day this year, in the joyful times ahead and even when we weep in the dark. How do we do that? Because of Mary’s tears; we believe that there is not a human being who has died in the last year, or any year, who is not known to God by name. God makes no distinctions between the rich or the poor, whether we are from a developing or developed country, whether we are Christian, Muslim or atheist; we are all called by name to share in his life, God knows not only our name, he knows our heart, our history and our selves.

At the first Easter, Jesus tells Mary Magdalene, that there is no longer an exclusive God. God, the Father of Jesus, is now, Mary's God and Father. And maybe that's a good place to start. All people of faith and goodwill, whether they realise it or not, and some in vastly different cultural ways, seek and serve the same God. Friends, as a result of that first Easter, God is not a great “other” to us, unworthy of our care. Jesus was not raised from the dead for us alone, but for all people, so that we might know that the best way to be worthy of him calling us by name is in living lives of faith, hope, and love. Along with Christ, may these gifts' rise in us this joyous Easter Day. Happy and Safe Holidays!

Cybersafety Help Button

It is probably a good time to remind people of some of the College’s actions in Cybersafety.

The Youth Advisory Group is being offered as an online forum for students again this year. The Coordinator is Miss Louise Scharf. The YAG team is being formed by students at several middle school levels and will commence operations in the next few weeks.

One of the outcomes produced by the Federal Government in response to feedback from YAG in 2009 was the production of the help button. This can easily be installed on your computer at home and will provide your children with instant access to advice about cybersafety and several contacts which will allow any cybersafety concerns to be followed up.

The link for this can be found at the Department of Broadband, Communications and the Digital Economy website http://www.dbcde.gov.au/ or can be Googled with “Cybersafety Help Button”.

Integrated Science Excursion

April 6th saw the Year 10/11/12 Integrated Science students heading up to Hillary’s Boat Harbour to the Department of Fisheries’ Naturalist Marine Discovery Centre (NMDC), to learn about WA’s unique and fragile aquatic environments, our precious fisheries, the science that underpins management, and how to fish and live sustainably.

The NMDCs’ learning programs that the students were involved in, are based on current science and data generated by scientific research, and are supported by the Department of Fisheries’ Research Division and the WA Museum.

Whilst at the NMDC, the students learnt about some of the rules and regulations that help to manage the State’s recreational fisheries in a sustainable way, thus understanding the Department of Fisheries motto “Fish for the Future”.

The students were also able to experience some of the sampling techniques used by fisheries and marine scientists, such as the sampling of plankton, abalone, rock lobster and finfish. Through this process the students were able to hone their skills in microscopy, data collection and analysis, observational analysis and interpretation of data.

After witnessing a fish dissection, the students had the opportunity to work out the age of fish, record data and then present the data graphically.

Subsequent to learning about the biology and economic importance of brine shrimp, each student was able to set up and take away their own individual Sea monkey hatchery. This was certainly one of the highlights of the excursion!

Istand Anchored Camp

The Youth Mission Team invites those students in Yrs 9 - 12 to the first Istand Anchored camp for 2011. These camps are a great opportunity to learn more about yourself and God, meet new friends and have a lot of fun. The weekend will feature games, a live band and drama, and runs from 29th April - 1st May. For more information contact Marty on perth@ymt.com.au or 0417637040 or search for “istand anchored” on facebook.

Condolences

Today, I attended the funeral of Mrs Joan Gummer. A tribute was read at the funeral by Fr. John Harte SJ on behalf of Fr. Daven Day SJ. (see tribute below) As many of you would know Fr Daven was the inaugural Principal of John XXIII College and his tribute highlights the pivotal role that Joan played in the amalgamation of St Louis and Loreto Claremont to form John XXIII College

Joan Gummer

Catholics have always been magnificent in rallying to support Catholic schools. But few parents showed the remarkable commitment of Joan and Bill Gummer in assuming a leadership role when all the odds were against the survival of St Louis’s School.

It was not that Joan by nature was a public person. She was gentle, unassuming and spoke softly. But she had determination and perseverance and was always a voice of reason and common sense.

As president of the Mothers' Committee she had the ability to listen to everyone, to calm situations and then to get members on side to bring their energies to bear on some serious problems. In three years thanks to the outstanding leadership of Sir John Lavan as chair of the school council, and a united teaching staff inspired by the deputy Frank Owen, and parents like Joan and Bill Gummer, a new junior school was built, the senior school was revamped, the student numbers had grown from 300 to 500 and the school was bursting at the seams. Most significantly the finances were in the black.

Joan’s contribution was greatest in the area of building morale. Untrained in the processes of attitudinal change she intuitively understood the principles and spirit behind building a Pedro Arrupe school. Joan was at the forefront of attitudinal change leading the parents of the school in acceptance of welcoming boys from less prosperous families, and so broadening the socio-economic background of the school family. She was there once again when St Louis and Iona became the first Catholic schools in W.A. to welcome asylum seeking children from East Timor. This prepared the way for the welcoming of Vietnamese children a few years later. Joan was at the forefront of the policy of actively welcoming religiously committed Anglicans, Uniting Church and Greek Orthodox families into St Louis. These boys have on the whole remained religiously committed to their own faith, and have been outstandingly successful in their professions.

Joan's stature in the St Louis Community enabled her to lead the St Louis' parents peacefully and competently into the complex process of amalgamation with Loreto convent. Joan by then had a long term vision, and this enabled her to give quiet but sure guidance. That venture has brought great joy to us all as we now celebrate over 30 years of John XXIII College.

Joan and Bill reared a loving family in Nedlands. Five boys and then the long awaited Deborah. Joan and Bill leave a great legacy to their family of how to live with faith, commitment and perseverance. The thread through their parenting was teaching their children to be in Pedro Arrupe's words, "compassionate people for others."

May Joan's gentle and feisty soul rest in peace.

Fr Daven Day SJ

Rowing News

With windy conditions and keen rowers, this year’s South West Head of the River was a huge success. There was a big range of schools competing including Bunbury Cathedral Grammar, Bunbury Catholic College, Great Southern Grammar, Perth Modern, Shenton College and, of course, John XXIII College.

The last race of the day was extremely close with 6 clubs fighting it out for the Ronald Walter Prosser Cup. Ultimately, John XXIII, comprised of a mixed team of 4 girls and 4 boys, was successful in just edging out Perth Modern with a fantastic victory for our school.

The regatta was also closely contested with Bunbury Cathedral Grammar winning on 63 points followed by John XXIII College with a very competitive 60 points! So close! A big thank you goes to coaches, our rowing Coordinator Trent Leach and all the rowers and parents who made the trek down to Bunbury. A special thanks also to the small group of girls who stepped up to the challenge and helped us achieve such a great result! Bring on 2012!

Musical Notes

Sunday’s Music Soiree
A big congratulations to all our talented music students who performed so well last Sunday.

Week 1 – Term 2 rehearsals
There will be no band or choir rehearsals in the 1st week of term 2 due to the Musical. All rehearsals will recommence in Week 2.

Mrs Toni Strong - Director of Music
Holy Week
Holy Week, which is the last week of Lent, runs from Palm Sunday to Holy Saturday, and includes the holy days of Holy Thursday and Good Friday. The week ends with the Easter Vigil Mass that is held on the evening of Holy Saturday, often at or just before midnight.

Holy Week is the most solemn week of the Christian year. Christians spend time during the week contemplating and commemorating Jesus’ suffering and death in the last week of his life, as well as focusing on the wider themes of their Christian beliefs.

Some church traditions hold daily services throughout the week, but many only have special observances on Palm Sunday, Holy Thursday, and Good Friday. Many churches remove all artefacts from their altars, and remove or cover up their crosses on Holy Thursday. They remain that way until the Easter Vigil Mass that is held in the evening of Holy Saturday.

The Colours of Easter
On Palm Sunday, and for the start of Holy Week, blood red vestments, the colour of martyrs, are used for church services. On Maundy Thursday white or gold vestments are used to symbolize the rejoicing about sacrament of the Lord’s Supper. On Good Friday, either dark red or black vestments are used, before being replaced by purple vestments for the Easter Vigil, and white vestments for Easter Sunday.

Some Interesting Information
Palm Sunday, the sixth and last Sunday in Lent, is the first day of Holy Week. Palm Sunday commemorates Jesus’ triumphant entry into Jerusalem for the Jewish festival of Passover shortly before his death and resurrection.

Holy Thursday commemorates the Passover meal, known as the Last Supper, which Jesus shared with his 12 Apostles.

Good Friday commemorates the crucifixion of Jesus Christ and his death on Calvary, the site outside the walls of Jerusalem used by the Romans at that time for executions.

Holy Saturday is the last day of Holy Week, and it immediately precedes Easter Sunday. It is often incorrectly called Easter Saturday.

The Easter Vigil service, when Christians wait for Jesus to return at midnight, takes place in the evening of Holy Saturday. The service includes the lighting of the Paschal, or Easter candle, which symbolizes Jesus Christ’s rising as the light if the world. The candle is often used throughout the next year for baptisms.

The Paschal candle is made from pure white wax. It is marked with a cross, and with the first and last letters of the Greek alphabet, alpha and omega. In between the arms of the cross are inscribed the four digits of the year. The candle's markings symbolize that Christ has been, is now, and always will be with humanity.

Lap A Thon for Project Compassion
On Friday the 8th April, at the suggestion of two keen Year 8 students, Campion House held a lap-a-thon, to raise money for Project Compassion.

The lap-a-thon was held on the College oval during House Assembly time. All students from Years 7 – 12, as well as Tutor Teachers and others associated with Campion House, ran, jogged, walked, skipped or took a leisurely stroll around the 400m track, to complete as many laps as possible in 32 minutes.

Participants were sponsored either per lap or as a lump sum donation for their efforts.

There were some outstanding individual efforts: Tom Kelly (C2) completed 17 laps, the most of any participant, followed closely by Jacob Broderick (C5) Dylan Andrews (C1) and Will Williamson (C4) who each completed 16 laps. Jessica Byrd (C6) completed 14 laps, the most for any female participant.

We were blessed with perfect weather for the event (24 degrees) and it was fantastic to see so many Teachers join in the event and give encouragement to the students. Students who were unable to run or walk helped out by manning the water station and marking off laps throughout the event.

Whilst the final tally is yet to be worked out, Campion should raise around $1,000 from the event, all of which will be go towards one of Caritas many worthwhile projects, helping underprivileged people around the world.

Special thanks must go the maintenance and Physical Education departments who helped with provision of a tent and water station for the day, and to Jessica Byrd and Lachlan Waller for suggesting the idea.

Society and Environment News

The Year 9 SOSE students have now completed their “Defining Moment” presentations and early next term we will be making selections to enter into the National History Challenge. Congratulations to the students who went to a great deal of effort in their presentations which took the form of models, media presentation and drama as well as written research.

In time for Anzac Day we have selected some models that depicted Australia’s ‘Defining Moments’ in WWI such as the Gallipoli Campaign. These are now on display in our library and some are shown in these photographs.

This is the third year the Careers Counsellor, Sarah Hammond and I have invited Alumni back to the College to share their experiences with the senior students. Last year some of the Alumni who were welcomed back included: Meneesha Michalka (Class 1998) Public Prosecutor, to talk about living the Seek Justice motto in her everyday life and within her chosen career.

Holly Cook (Class 2004) Graduate of Notre Dame, currently involved in ICEA, a Charity for Aboriginal Children in the North West.

Chiara Horlin (Class 2001) Graduate of UWA, now lecturing Psychology to some of John XXIII College’s young Alumni

Peter D’Alessandro (Class 1998) Orthopaedic Surgery Registrar, who managed to combine his love of travel with study and a career.

The aim of Legends @ Lunchtime is to invite a range of people from different occupations who, in an informal setting, explain what they do, the personal requirements for their job, how they got there, employment opportunities and related career paths.

We are looking forward to providing a range of speakers this year that will add value to the service already provided by the College, also recognising and applauding our Alumni for their achievements since leaving John XXIII College.

It’s not too late to join the Alumni Footy Tipping Competition. Log on to the online alumni community webpage www.johnxxiii.edu.au to register your tipping for this week. Congratulations to Bruno Wilczynski (Class 1967) and Darren Miller (Class 1989) both tipping 8 out of 8 in the first round. Don’t forget to keep an eye out for Matt De Boer who has recently been named in the Leaders Group for the Fremantle (Dockers) Football Club.

This year I am organising the Class 1961 50 year reunion in conjunction with a group of Alumni from St Louis (now John XXIII College). My first meeting with the organisers is this week and the reunion will be a special Mass and dinner in the Circle of Friends Cafe on Campus on FRIDAY 2ND DECEMBER 2011 (Please note this change of date).

Anna Gingell nee Muir (Class 1978) ADAPEM Alumni Development Officer

Congratulations to..............
Tessa Atkinson (Yr 12) Loyola 1, who has made the Australian U19 Women’s Lacrosse team. Tessa will be attending a training camp in Victoria these coming holidays.

Parent Organised Activities
Please find on the College website, in the “Community” heading, a set of helpful guidelines for parents who organise activities. These have also been distributed to the Parent Auxiliary.

Madonna Magazine
The May/June edition of Madonna Magazine will soon arrive in your letter box. It is provided six times a year to each family in the College as part of the Ignatian outreach. I hope that you enjoy this edition which has a special feature on Mothers Prayers.
The Perth City to Surf for Activ is Western Australia’s largest community sporting event and relies on the tireless support of hundreds of volunteers. Each year the organisers of the event require hard working, exceptional people to help make the Perth City to Surf even more enjoyable for everyone involved! The 2011 Chevron City to Surf for Activ is currently recruiting volunteers who are at least 14/15 years old, therefore targeting years 10, 11 and 12. We aim to match our volunteer roles to skills, knowledge and preference so that the students will be carrying out a role that they enjoy. We will also be sure to allocate students in a role where they will be placed together.

As we require over 1000 volunteers there are many different tasks that we can allocate to students. The number of students available will also determine which role they will carry out. Listed below are the various areas where we will need volunteers:

- Pre Event Packing
- Chevron City to Surf for Activ Expo
- Start-Line and Finish-Line
- Clothing Service
- Road Marshals
- Pedestrian Marshals
- Aid Station Marshals
- Drink & Refreshment Stations
- Signage Installation and Removal

Students volunteers are usually allocated at drink stations, the start and finish line or clothing service. Please let us know if you have a preference and we will try to secure this for you.

Volunteering at the Perth City to Surf is also a great way for students to become involved in their community. The event will be held on the 28th of August 2011, so please save this date.
