Welcome Back!

Dear Parents, Students and Friends of John XXIII College

Welcome back to Term 2. I sincerely hope that you have all enjoyed a wonderful Easter and that our glorious weather gave you a chance to entertain your family using the great Perth beaches, National Parks and outdoor facilities.

Our first week back as been eventful. The extraordinary Opening Night of Westside Story was quickly followed by a viral illness which took a heavy toll on the cast and crew. In an unprecedented move the College had to make the decision to cancel Thursday night’s show. I apologise for any inconvenience. Another show has been scheduled for Monday night to allow the people who booked for Thursday to attend. The standard of the acting, dancing, singing and the orchestra, will leave you wondering if it is possible this is a school show!! It is a very emotional story so bring your tissues! Congratulations to George Tsakisis, Toni Strong, Niki Browne-Cooper, Juliette Owen, Kiri Moore and all who have made it possible to bring this show to life!

We have this week also remembered the ANZAC’s with a special service. Despite the gap between ANZAC Day and our actual service, there was ample evidence of the respect that our students have for the ANZAC’s.

The sense of service, loyalty and mateship that have created the ANZAC legend are challenges to us all. Mr Tony Yates (past student and current staff member) spoke to the students at the service about his reflection and understanding of the ANZAC spirit. Mr Yates served for 10 years in the Armed Forces and had a Tour of Duty in the Solomon Islands as a Peace Keeper.

And finally, we celebrated Mother’s Day with a very joyful Mass in the Primary School. Fr. Charles Waddell from St. Thomas’ Claremont celebrated with Mothers, Grandmothers and other family members of our primary students. The Year 3 students from Miss Triscari’s class prepared the day with great reverence. Well done to all! Happy Mother’s Day to all our College Mothers.

Easter Season
The joy and hope of the Risen Christ gives a special spirit to the season of Easter. It is such a distinctive season after the long period of Lent. It is time to reflect on light and goodness. For me, the death of Osama Bin Laden and the reaction around the world to his death, has been unsettling. In the spirit of Easter, I offer these wise words from Martin Luther King;

“I mourn the loss of thousands of precious lives, but I will not rejoice in the death of one, not even an enemy. Returning hate for hate multiplies hate, adding deeper darkness to a night already devoid of stars. Darkness cannot drive out darkness: only light can do that. Hate cannot drive out hate: only love can do that”

Together let us seek justice

Yours sincerely

Mrs Anne Fry   -  Principal
Around the Primary

Welcome back to the start of the new school term! It was wonderful to see so many smiling faces and hear cheery greetings from parents and children on the first day. The staff and I are looking forward to another happy and productive term of learning, faith and friendship!

Over the next few weeks we will be beginning a new process of contacting all parents of children who have not arrived at school by the start of the school day and for whom we have no explanation of absence. This as you can imagine will be a labour intensive exercise. Parents can assist us by making sure we are informed of all absences by 9am. Primary Absentees may be reported by emailing primary.absentees@johnxxiii.edu.au All emails will be forwarded to the classroom teacher. Feel free to leave a message if calling outside office hours by phoning Cath Philpot (Primary Secretary) on 9383 0401. An email, written note or doctor’s certificate must be provided to the class teacher as soon as the child returns to school.

Just a reminder, primary students should be at school 10 minutes prior to the commencement of the school day. Outside supervision is available from 8.15am. No supervision is provided before 8.15am and after 3.35pm. All primary children should be collected by 3.30pm. All primary children not collected by 3.30pm will be required to wait in the main administration block. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

The National Assessment Program Literacy and Numeracy (NAPLAN) testing has been scheduled to begin on Tuesday 10th May. This annual testing of reading, writing, language conventions and numeracy is for students in Years 3, 5, 7 and 9 across Australia. Please take a few minutes to read the attached article about helping children to get ready for the testing process.

It was wonderful to see the number of mums arriving this morning for our Mother’s Day Mass. It was indeed a joyous celebration. The Year 3 students read beautifully and the whole school added to the celebration with their lovely singing voices. It was fantastic to see the children participating so fully in the liturgy and behaving so reverently. Congratulations to Miss Triscari and all the children from 3G for preparing today’s beautiful Mass. A big thank you to Mr Downie and the Year 12 Vocational Education students for preparing today’s delicious morning tea. Special thanks to the many parents and friends who were able to join us at Mass today.

Congratulations to Catherine Rogan (4B teacher) and her fiancé Merv who will be married on Saturday. We wish them a lifetime of love and happiness.

Enjoy Mother’s Day on Sunday!

Kind regards

Ms Antoinette De Pinto - Head of Primary

Parenting; It Can Be like a Roller Coaster Ride

For many of us being a parent can be like being on a roller coaster ride. Life with the children can be going along smoothly and next minute it can be up or down without us even realising what is happening. To assist with this ride the College is pleased to provide a thought provoking article from Michael Grose through Parenting Ideas. These articles will appear in the Newsletter once a fortnight.

This week’s article is called Helping students get ready for the NAPLAN tests, we hope that you enjoy the article.

Helping students get ready for the NAPLAN tests

The most resilient children and young people are those who rise to meet rather than retreat from the challenges presented to them. Perhaps it's best to view the NAPLAN tests as good learning experiences rather than dreaded pressure tests.

During the second week of May Australian children in Years 3, 5, 7 and 9 will take part in the National Assessment Program – Literacy and Numeracy (NAPLAN). The stated purpose of this testing program is to gain an overall picture of educational attainment levels to assist education policy and decision-making.

The program first implemented in 2008 has drawn some criticism from a number of different quarters, particularly in regard to the use of the information gained through the NAPLAN tests. You’ve probably heard a number of different viewpoints expressed in the media over the last few weeks.

As a parent it helps your child, if you take a positive view of the NAPLAN tests. It’s better to see them as learning opportunities for kids as well as opportunities to overcome any anxieties or nerves that these tests may bring on. It’s also worth remembering that many children don’t stress over these tests. The vast majority take them in their stride, wondering what all the fuss is about.

Whether your child stresses or takes them in his stride here are some tips to help prepare for the NAPLAN tests:

1. Take your cues from your child: If your child doesn’t worry about them then neither should you. Be careful not to create a problem that doesn’t exist by incessantly talking about, or worse, worrying about the test.

2. Focus on doing their best & trying hard: Choose your words carefully when you speak with your kids. As with all their learning activities place your focus squarely on effort rather than results. The only pressure on kids should be to try hard rather than to do well.

3. Listen to any concerns they have: If your child confesses to some nerves then validate their feelings, rather than shut them down with a “get over it” response. “Yes, sometimes tests can be a little scary, but they get easier every time you take them.” Use this as an opportunity to develop some emotional smarts, which starts with recognising how kids feel.

4. Give them some relaxation ideas: Anxious or nervous kids will benefit from some simple relaxation strategies. Taking some deep breaths, changing their thinking and exercising the morning of the test are some simple ways to help kids get some feeling of control.

5. Help them retain their perspective: One way to help children who become excessively anxious about an event is to ask what’s the worst thing that could happen? Okay, they may not do as well as they would like but the sun will still rise tomorrow, regardless of how well they do. Keeping perspective is a life skill that we all need to practise.

A positive, caring parent attitude is one of the best gifts you can give a child when they are apprehensive or nervous about approaching any different situation whether it’s going on school camp, joining a new club or sitting a NAPLAN test.
Congratulations to Carys Munks (Year 11) who has just received official notification that she currently holds the Australian Record in the S6 Category U16 400m swimming record. Fantastic, Carys!!!

Parenting Children With Eczema

ARE YOU CHALLENGED BY YOUR CHILD’S ECZEMA?

The University of Queensland is conducting research into parenting children with eczema. Parenting a child with eczema presents many challenges (everything from the daily application of creams and avoiding eczema triggers, to more general parenting tasks). The aim of this study is to understand the factors that make the management of childhood eczema particularly difficult, and to use this information to develop strategies that might assist parents in managing their child’s eczema.

If you are a parent of a 3 to 10-year-old child with eczema, we would love to hear from you!

By sharing your experiences (confidentially), you will be making a valuable contribution to the development of much-needed childhood eczema management strategies for parents. Results of this study will be made available to all participants.

To complete the online survey, please log on to: http://exp.psy.uq.edu.au/eczema

For further information about the project or to request a survey to be posted to you, please email Katie Sillar (katie.sillar@uqconnect.edu.au) or phone Amy Mitchell (07 3365 7305) at the Parenting and Family Support Centre in the School of Psychology at the University of Queensland, St Lucia QLD 4072 (Fax: 07 3365 6724).

Thank you for your time and participation.
