When Christians used to farewell each other the phrase, God be with you, (God be wy you) was used. The phrase has now become “goodbye” and today we have said goodbye to the graduating Class of 2011. May God be with each of them on their life journey.

In the spirit of John XXIII, Mary Ward and Ignatius Loyola, our College seeks to develop people of competence, conscience and compassion, who are committed to God and the service of others.
Dear Parents, Students and Friends of John XXIII College

In a very respectful and affectionate way we said goodbye to our graduands and will continue our celebrations next week with the more formal Valete Ceremony. This has been a great group of Year 12s and we thank them for all they have contributed to John XXIII College. At our assembly of farewell we also thanked our outgoing SRC and welcomed in our 2012 Leadership team. Congratulations to

Tournament of the Minds

Congratulations to our wonderful Tournament of the Minds team who won the National Title in the Maths / Engineering Division. Held last weekend, in Tasmania, the team performed brilliantly in both the spontaneous and problem solving divisions. John XXIII has an enviable reputation of excellence in this competition. My thanks to Mrs McLean, Miss Weston, Miss Catina (Team Chaperone) and team members: Rachel Lam, Evelyn Collier, Breandon Kirwin, George Mattys, Anouk Ratnawibhushana, Alisdair Cowie, Jacob Donovan

Pilgrimages

I thank God that all our Pilgrims have returned safely from their immersions in Timor Leste, Alice Springs, Vietnam and India. I know that for me personally it was an enriching, grace filled experience to work alongside Timorese people as we laboured to build classrooms. The students I was with, and the reports I received from other staff regarding other Pilgrimages, give me great confidence the motto and mission of this College are being truly lived. Further descriptions, photos and reports will be shared with the College Community.

Resignation of Mr Rob Novacsek

It is with regret I announce the resignation of Mr Novacsek who will take up a leadership position at Chisholm College next year. Rob has served John XXIII College in a very demanding role for over 10 years and I know you join me in wishing him well for his transition to his new school.

Together let us seek justice.

Yours sincerely

Sustainability Committee

Wangari Maathai Nobel Laureate

The College has formed a sustainability committee to look at a range of policies and practices. We are proud that our founding orders - the Loreto and Jesuit congregations—have taken such a strong lead on these issues. I include this press release about Wangari Maathai who won a Nobel prize for her work in environmental issues. She was educated by the Loreto Sisters in Kenya.

A few weeks ago, another Nobel Peace Laureate died of cancer. Wangari Muta Maathai (pictured right) received the award in 2004. She was a politician in Kenya and founder of the Green Belt Movement. She promoted sustainable development in the context of democracy and women's rights. In speaking against environmental degradation and poverty, she highlighted their close connection: Soon the relationship between the environment, resources and conflict will seem almost as obvious as the connection we already see between human rights, democracy and peace.

Wangari Maathai was educated by the Loreto Sisters who recommended her for a scholarship to study in the United States. She was part of the “Kennedy airlift” in which 300 Kenyans – including Barack Obama’s father – were chosen to study at American universities in 1960. She said: The privilege of a higher education, especially outside Africa, broadened my original horizon and encouraged me to focus on the environment, women and development in order to improve the quality of life of people in my country in particular and in the African region in general. Thank God for the Loreto Sisters in recognising her talent.

She fought against corruption, imploring people to stop blaming colonial powers for their miseries when it was their own leaders who had for decades squandered fortunes. She introduced the idea of planting trees with women groups, in order to conserve the environment and improve their quality of life. They began by paying women a few coins to plant trees. It’s the little things citizens do. That’s what will make the difference. My little thing is planting trees … It’s really amazing. You plant a seed; it germinates and looks so fragile, yet within a short time it becomes a huge tree. It gives you shade and if it’s a fruit tree it gives you fruit … to build and transform lives.

The Green Belt Movement has assisted women in planting more than 20 million trees on their farms and on schools and church compounds. Maathai had a holistic view of reconciliation with creation: All of us have a God in us, and that God is the spirit that unites all life, everything that is on this planet. She wanted to encourage young people to reach beyond themselves: It is very important for young people not to be afraid of engaging in unfamiliar areas. Get involved in local activities and initiatives, and be involved in leadership positions because you can’t learn unless you are involved. If you make mistakes, that is alright too, because we all make mistakes and we learn from those mistakes. You gain confidence from learning, failing and rising again.

(Mrs) Anne Fry—Principal

Dear Parents

Welcome back to Term four! It seems like only yesterday we were welcoming families to the new school year. Term four is always a busy time and we certainly have an action packed term ahead. To keep up with the events ahead please keep the primary calendar in a handy place. An updated version will be emailed to all families today.

Congratulations to Mr Alderman for organising today's fantastic Junior Primary Sports Carnival. The children put in lots of practice for their events and thoroughly enjoyed displaying their physical skills and talents to their friends and family. Special thanks to everyone involved in today’s carnival. A wonderful time was had by young and the not so young.

Our wonderful teachers will begin working on the composition of class lists shortly. Consideration for placement is made using the following criteria:

- academic ability,
- friendships,
- gender balance,
- behaviour,
- special circumstances eg twins or triplets.

As all teachers at John XXIII College are professional and of an excellent standard, children will receive a high quality of education no matter which class they are placed in for the new school year. Teachers spend a lot of time and give great consideration to the placement of children. Every effort is made to place children where it is felt they will have the greatest opportunity to succeed. If you have any specific requests, based on the above criteria. Please forward these to myself by Thursday 27 October. Please note all requests will be considered, but there is no guarantee they will be met.

On a different note, next year our Year 6 students are headed to Canberra for the inaugural Year 6 Student Leadership Camp in May 2012. This camp is going to be an empowering opportunity to broaden the depth of our students educational and life learning experience. The itinerary will include excursions to Parliament House, Australian War Memorial, National Museum of Australia, Royal Australian Mint, Australian Institute of Sport and Questacon (National Science and Technology Centre).

Kind regards

Antoinette De Pinto
Head of Primary
Welcome readers to term four. As we approach the end of the liturgical year, we are invited to see Jesus teaching us how to live in love. If we look up the word ‘love’ in a dictionary, you will find something like this: Love means having a deep affection for somebody or something, an interest in and a warm regard for another, and wishing good for the other. That definition is satisfactory, though a bit flat and dull. This Sunday’s Scripture readings can help us to fill out the dictionary definition and deepen our understanding of the biblical concept of love.

In this week end’s reading from Matthew 22, Jesus is challenged to choose the greatest among the 613 commandments in the Torah (the first five books of the Old Testament) He names two: love of God Deuteronomy 6:4-5 and love of neighbour Leviticus 19:18. These commandments cover two dimensions of the biblical concept of love. The third dimension God’s love for us is even more basic. God’s love for us is the fundamental presupposition of the entire Bible. God has loved us first, and so we can and should love God in return.

God’s love has been made manifest in God’s gift of creation, in the choice of Israel, as God’s people in sending Jesus to us and in giving us life and the promise of eternal life. Theological virtue of love shares its origin in God those who have experienced God’s love and love God in another in return. This commandment to love one’s neighbour is part of what is known as the biblical ‘Holiness Code’. It challenges us to love our neighbour as we love ourselves. While lack of self esteem is a serious problem for some today, most of us are pretty good at taking care of ourselves or at least we think we are. The challenge of the love commandment is for us to take something of the care and concern that we instinctively show for ourselves and to apply it to other.

Who should we Love? Who is our neighbour? Today’s reading from Exodus22 provides us with some examples. The neighbour includes not only family members and friends but also foreigners or strangers, widows, orphans, the poor, the refugee and the very neediest in society. The New Testament parable of the Good Samaritan (Luke 10:25-37) and other texts, Jesus pushes the definition of neighbour to include even enemies. In this frame work the neighbour it is not necessarily someone who can offer us repayment or provide some advantage for us. Love of neighbour is not simply enlightened self interest. Rather, we should love our neighbour because God has loved us first, and in loving our neighbour we respond to God’s love for us and repay that love. St Augustine advised, “Love and do what you will”.

In the Exodus, the Lord tells us today, “you shall not wrong or oppress a resident alien, for you were aliens in the land of Egypt”. Jesus tells in the Gospel that the love of God is fulfilled precisely when we love our neighbour.

No pressing issue in the western world it seems to elicit such hysteria as does the entire process of immigration. Until recently, most people who have chosen to leave, or have had to, flee their country of birth. Given Australia as ‘land flowing with milk and honey’ with comparative wealth, this hospitality is entirely appropriate. And it is also appropriate for all Western countries to have a threshold number of refugees and asylum seekers for the sake of the common good.

On their part, asylum seekers recognise, in the details of those corrupt legal systems, played in their persecution from which they fled. They also know that Australian law commits the government to protect refugees and to detain them only in order to establish their identity. But precisely because they are innocent and are likely to be granted protection as refugees, they are punished by prolonged detention in order to deter others. Our Christian refugees have recognized in the Gospel stories of Jesus’ trial and killing. They see here, the sufferings of a good man persecuted for no good reason and subject to unjust law and they can reflect on their own experience reflected in our Australian detention centres. As we see it today reflected in our political leaders manipulate as the crowds did in Jesus’ time, the triumph of expediency over legality and morality. As Andy Hamilton says “Luke adds the note that Pilate and Herod became friends on that day. It would be hard for Christian refugees not to be reminded Tony Abbot and Julia Gillard as they wrestle with each other in order to pass laws that will stitch asylum seekers up properly and placate the crowd”. Sadly, many of us want the good life for ourselves, while doing very little to help other countries become more liveable, and then we can reject people who want to share in the blessings we have worked for and inherited.

The Gospel of Matthew gives us the story of Mary, Joseph and Jesus being forced to flee Israel for Egypt as refugees (Matthew 2:13-15). If the Holy Family was coming our way these days, they might be sent back to King Herod. May these coming days and weeks see in us a change of heart so our faith enables us to act justly, love tenderly and walk humbly with our God. May the goodness and hospitality mirror on earth the welcome we hope to enjoy from Jesus, Mary, and Joseph in the kingdom that is promised to all, irrespective of where any of us has been born.

Years 8 to 11 Student Leadership 2012

The College is excited to announce an expanded student leadership structure for secondary students in 2012 to continue the fine tradition of building the leadership capacity of young women and men in the Ignation tradition. The development of leadership is an important part of the education mission of John XXIII College as we are called to be ‘people for others’.

One girl and one boy from each year (8-11) will be given the opportunity to serve their House and peers in the role of Student Leader for 2012 and complement the senior leadership of the Year 12 students. The College will continue its approach in Year 7 of allowing all students the opportunity of leadership through the transition program.

Students considering a leadership role will be required to complete the official nomination form available through the College Web Site (Home Page – Notices) and Student Reception. Approval from the Tutor Group/ Homeroom Teacher and House Coordinator/Year 7 Coordinator will be required before the form is submitted.

Nominations close on Monday, 24 October and voting will take place on Tuesday, 1 November. The elected leaders will be invited to attend a Leadership Day Workshop on Monday, 28 November.

Emerging Tigers Program

A Specialist High Performance Cricket Program For Year 8, 9 and 10 Students at John XXIII

Claremont Nedlands is committed to developing talented junior cricketers from John XXIII. The program will be designed to produce District* quality cricketers who can represent CNCC in the Under 17s District competition, as 15 and 16 year olds.

Some boys will already be playing District cricket (13s, 14s or 15s) and many others will be playing community cricket (North west Zone).

We will be launching the Emerging Tigers on November the 14 at Creswell park in Swanbourne. We have appointed Chris Brabazon as Coach. Chris is a level 3 coach (one of the few in the state) has worked as a WACA cricket officer and is currently splitting his time playing high level cricket in the UK and Perth.

The sessions will run from 5.00pm to 6.30pm through the normal cricket season and will focus on elite skill development across batting, bowling, and fielding.

Anyone already registered with CNJCC will be contacted and invited to attend – but this program is open to all talented cricketers from John XXIII (preferably from years 8, 9 and 10 but some year 7 and 11 students may be invited to participate).

John XXIII fully supports the program and regular feedback will be provided to the College on the numbers and progress of the program.

If you would like to be part of this program or have any questions please call Karl Hombergen on 0432373305.

ALUMNI

The IGSA Old Girls Golf Day was played on the 26th September.
In a field of 132, Loreto had 20 players. They were;
Terry Gears, Kris Topp, Margaret Briggs, Louise McFarlane, Margot Kay, Marie Lalor, Lucille Palandri, Wendy
Krummel, Helen Walsh, Kathy Scott, Cath Belmore, Nikki Belmore, Bev Mathews, Gemma O’Halloran, Michelle Duncan, Judy Ley, Marguerite Cullity, Jane Miles, Lyndell Olivier, Mary Dale.
The event was Canadian Foursomes held at Cottesloe Golf Club and the weather was wet and windy. The winning team was MLC, runners up were PLC and Loreto was third.

Lucille Palandri nee Durack

Good Luck
Lucy Durack (Class 1998) will be performing for the Queen next week during the State Reception at Government House. Musicians from WAAPA will support Lucy. She will be singing the National Anthem, a privilege Lucy has preformed previously at the AFL Grand Final and the Caulfield Cup and it comes off the back of her three year run with the stage production Wicked.

Ron Logan Cup
The Ron Logan Cup was played yesterday in glorious weather with two very enthusiastic teams. The Alumni team were defending the title and despite being down on numbers and having to rely on a few “old” teachers, including Rod Downie (Class 1973) they won convincingly. Only minor injuries were reported with a few blood noses and pulled hamstrings otherwise a great game. Andrew Watson thanked everybody for their contribution and Ron Logan presented the shield to Sam Wallwork (Class 2007) who captained the Alumni team. Pizzas and soft drinks in the Circle of Friends Cafe ended the afternoon with promises to return next year. Thanks to Darren Kowal, Dave Maxwell, Cam Haines and all the staff from PE who contributed to the Ron Logan Cup. Thanks also to all the Alumni and in particular to Ron Logan, who continue to support this tradition.
28th Loreto Federation - Perth 3, 4 and 5 May 2012

Perth is looking to provide delegates to the 28th Loreto Federation 2012 with an exciting and stimulating program; our aim is to encourage us all to greater engagement for the betterment of all.

Of particular interest will be hearing from the new Congregation Leader Sr Margaret Mary Flynn – her vision and invitation to past students to be part of this.

We have also been able to attract an international speaker, Fr Daniel Groody SJ, who will have a challenging global message for all of us.

Younger members of the audience should also find the panel on Saturday afternoon of great interest as members of the Loreto ‘family’ share their commitments to causes making a difference locally and internationally.

It is our hope that the practice of giving participants reflection time after lectures and other contributions will enable people to have a little quiet time to their own thoughts and lives.

Other attractions whilst in WA for participants we hope will include opportunities to explore the historic city of Fremantle, visit the wine growing areas of Margaret River and the Swan Valley, and perhaps even get seriously out-of-town to Monkey Mia (dolphins) and other tourist attractions.

Perth Station Platform 5 Changes

Timber footbridge removal and new stairs

Sinking the Fremantle Line from William Street to Lake/King Street is the first stage of the Perth City Link – a Federal, State and Local Government project to reconnect the CBD and Northbridge.

As part of this rail work, Perth Station will undergo a number of changes to cater for Perth’s growing public transport needs and improve passenger connections.

In November 2011, work will begin on Platform 5 in Perth Station to allow construction of a new pedestrian underpass, which will connect all platforms to Perth Underground.

Description of the works

From early November two areas of work will be carried out on Platform 5:

- removing the timber footbridge connecting Platform 5 and 6/7
- installing new stairs next to the lift and escalators

During the work, a temporary platform-level walkway, connecting Platform 5 and Platform 6/7, will be installed to manage passenger movement. The walkway will be removed when this work is completed.

Duration
The timber footbridge removal and construction of new stairs will be completed by late-December 2011.

Why
The timber footbridge must be removed to allow a new pedestrian underpass to be built.
The new Platform 5 stairs will improve passenger movement.

Impact on passengers
Access to train services, lifts and escalators will not be affected.

To minimise noise and dust, solid fencing will be in place around the worksite and some work will occur at night.

All work will follow approved noise and dust management plans.

Pedestrian underpass

The Perth City Link Rail Alliance will sink the Fremantle Line from William Street to Lake/King Streets as the first stage of the Perth City Link project. The rail project will be completed in the second quarter of 2014.

As part of the rail project, a new pedestrian underpass to connect all platforms to Perth Underground will be constructed.

When completed, the new pedestrian underpass will greatly improve connections between services by:

- saving passengers up to 45 seconds in travel time between train services
- providing the best access for all passengers, particularly those with accessibility difficulties, through lifts, stairs and escalators
- maintaining Perth Station’s open ambience and natural light
- improving the view of the Horseshoe Bridge from within Perth Station

The construction program

To continue train services and move passengers easily around Perth Station, the Perth City Link Rail Alliance will build the pedestrian underpass in stages.

Stage one is the section connecting Platform 5 to Platform 6/7. This stage will run from late 2011 to mid-2012.

Stage two is the section connecting Perth Station to Perth Underground.

This complex section will go under the heritage-listed Perth Station building and link up with Perth Underground.

This stage runs from mid-2012 to mid-2013.

Stage three is the section connecting Platform 6/7 to Platform 9. This stage will run from late 2012 to mid-2013.

The final design

Parallel with the Horseshoe Bridge (see map on back), the seven metre wide and three metre high pedestrian underpass will become a key thoroughfare for passengers connecting between services and Perth Underground.

The underpass’s design maximises natural lighting and ventilation through skylights placed at key intervals on the platforms and Wellington Street forecourt in front of Perth Station.

On the platform level, the sculptural skylights deliberately contrast the heritage Horseshoe Bridge and Perth Station building while adding a contemporary layer to the area’s history.
