

INVITATION TO ALL JOHN XXIII PARENTS

JOHN XXIII COLLEGE: THE IGNATIAN CONNECTION

People often comment that there is something special about our school community ... our generosity of spirit, our strong sense of service and the wellspring of compassion that is so much a part of our interactions with each other and the wider world. Where does this strong sense of compassionate connection with others come from? Could it be the Ignatian way?

Ignatian Spirituality nurtures the connection between our heart and our mind. Just as we exercise our body to maintain good physical health, Ignatian principles help us to exercise our soul to maintain good spiritual health.

Are you interested in learning some valuable tools for a more satisfying and fulfilled life? Would you like to get a valuable insight into the Heritage of John XXIII College and why we should be proud of being part of the Ignatian Tradition?

The Ignatian Tradition is over 500 years old and is one of the most pervasive and influential outlooks of our age throughout the modern world. The College is pleased to provide parents the opportunity to understand Ignatian Spirituality and the core values that influence our school by running a six module course split between Term 2 and Term 3.

John XXIII College Staff have already covered this course and their response has been overwhelmingly positive. Murray Graham will be the presenter and all Term 2 sessions will be in the Gonzaga Barry Lecture Theatre with a choice of morning or evening sessions.

Term 2	Module 1 Tuesday 22nd May	9.00 am – 10.30am OR 7:30pm – 9:00pm
	Module 2 Tuesday 5th June	9.00 am – 10.30 am OR 7:30pm – 9:00pm
	Module 3 Tuesday 19th June	9.00 am – 10.30 am OR 7:30pm – 9:00pm

Please come along and enrich your own spiritual life, and therefore that of your family, by learning about St Ignatius Loyola and his Spiritual Way. We hope you can attend either one, two or all of our sessions this Term – and feel free to bring a friend! Tea and coffee (and a sweet treat!) provided.
